

Bond University
Research Repository

Editorial: Volume 29, Number 2

Moro, Christian

Published in:
Australian and New Zealand Continenence Journal

DOI:
10.33235/anzcj.29.2.21

Licence:
CC BY

Link to output in Bond University research repository.

Recommended citation(APA):
Moro, C. (2023). Editorial: Volume 29, Number 2. Australian and New Zealand Continenence Journal, 29(2), 21-21.
<https://doi.org/10.33235/anzcj.29.2.21>

General rights

Copyright and moral rights for the publications made accessible in the public portal are retained by the authors and/or other copyright owners and it is a condition of accessing publications that users recognise and abide by the legal requirements associated with these rights.

For more information, or if you believe that this document breaches copyright, please contact the Bond University research repository coordinator.

EDITORIAL

For referencing Moro C. Editorial. Australian and New Zealand Continence Journal 2023; 29(2):21.

DOI <https://doi.org/10.33235/anzcj.29.2.21>

Licensed under CC BY 4.0

In this edition of the Australian and New Zealand Continence Journal we are delighted to present the abstracts from the 31st National Conference on Incontinence and 4th Functional Urology Symposium. This is always of particular interest as it showcases the broad work that continence and urological researchers are doing not just in Australia and New Zealand, but all over the world.

If you would like to know more about the journal, or how to get involved in some way with the Australian and New Zealand Continence Journal, I invite you to attend the conference and make a time to catch up with me at the Continence Foundation of Australia exhibition booth. Lastly, if you are unable to attend but do wish to be included on our team of reviewers, please get in touch at journal@continence.org.au

The journal continually encourages multidisciplinary submissions of quality research. We work hard to ensure visibility of published works in the journal and, to facilitate this, all publications are available online as full open access, with no cost to publish or read.

Each article is also allocated an individual DOI number which assists with referencing and tracking, and is listed across a number of medical databases. It's these types of features that help our journal stand out and presents it as an excellent outlet for the submission and the publication of quality works. Also, if you are a first-time author, our reviewing and editorial teams offer feedback and support to assist.

Performing research not only helps our community with increased knowledge and insights, but also advances the mission of the Continence Foundation of Australia and Continence NZ to promote bladder and bowel health, and eliminate the stigma and restrictions of all aspects of incontinence.

Christian Moro
Editor-In-Chief and Chair
Australian and New Zealand
Continence Journal

Joint conference
31st National Conference on Incontinence & 4th Functional Urology Symposium
continence.org.au/NC01

Continenence Foundation of Australia | UROLOGICAL SOCIETY OF AUSTRALIA AND NEW ZEALAND
Adelaide Convention Centre | 14-17 June 2023

Thank you to our sponsors and partners

Principal partners

Gold sponsors

Silver sponsors

Bronze sponsors

